

Project

Hillman Cancer Center at UPMC Shadyside Pittsburgh, PA

This project required solutions across the entire spectrum of interior construction. Included in Giffin's scope of work were custom casework, architecturally matched wall panels, specialty metal components, and a large amount of solid surface and marble.

Team

Architects: Radelet McCarthy / IKM, Inc.
 General Contractors: P.J. Dick Corporation / Massaro Construction

Craftsmanship

Large corridors of architecturally matched maple panels, complete with metal reveals, are a welcome addition to the typical casework.

The maple crown window frames and wainscot accent this corridor.

These maple aquarium enclosures are matched to the corridor wall panels.

A reception area desk incorporates a solid surface ledge with wood legs and plastic laminate top.

Customer Satisfaction

"Giffin Interior and Fixture's work was outstanding in all aspects. The quality of work was excellent, and the finishes were superior. Tasks that were highly complex were performed with speed, accuracy, and quality. The entire Giffin team was professional and willing to do anything in their power to address special requests from the owner, while maintaining all project schedules."
